The Cambridge English Scale explained

A guide to converting Cambridge English: B1 Preliminary and B1 Preliminary for Schools practice test scores to Cambridge English Scale scores

Common European Cambridge Cambridge
Framework of English English:
Reference (CEFR) Scale B1 Preliminary and B1 Preliminary for Schools

Cambridge English: B1 Preliminary and B1 Preliminary for Schools are now reporting results on the Cambridge English Scale. For these exams, candidates receive an individual score for each of the four skills – Reading, Writing, Listening and Speaking. In the live exams, each of the skills is equally weighted, and a candidate's overall score is calculated by adding all of the individual scores together and dividing by four (and then rounding to the nearest whole number). A candidate's grade and CEFR level are based on their performance across the whole test, and there is no requirement to achieve a minimum score in each paper.

The following tables can be used as guidance to help you convert practice test scores to Cambridge English Scale scores.

Please note that these only apply when using official Cambridge practice tests.

The conversion tables are intended to help you provide an indication of your students' readiness to take the relevant exam. The scores you provide may not always reflect the results the students may achieve in a Cambridge English live exam. They should not be used to try to predict precise scores in the live exam, but can be a useful diagnostic tool, indicating areas of relative strength and weakness.

The scores needed on any given test to achieve the scores on the Cambridge English Scale shown in the tables below will vary due to a number of factors, so borderline scores need to be reviewed carefully. The borderline is approximately three Cambridge English scale score points above and below the score needed to achieve the level, e.g. 137–143 for Level B1. Students who achieve only slightly higher than the Cambridge English Scale score for a given level on a practice test may not achieve that level in the live exam, and we recommend that they continue working to improve so that they reach the desired level.

Speaking

Candidates take the test in pairs, but are assessed on their individual performance by trained examiners certificated to examine at the level. Candidate speaking performances are assessed using scales which are linked to the Common European Framework of Reference. The assessor gives 0–5 marks for each of the following criteria: Grammar and Vocabulary; Discourse Management; Pronunciation; and Interactive Communication. The interlocutor gives a mark of 0–5 for Global Achievement and this mark is doubled. Examiners may award half marks. Marks for all criteria are then combined, meaning there are 30 marks available in the Speaking test.

A hotel under the sea

Want to sleep under the sea? The company Planet Ocean has plans for an exciting underwater hotel, which they hope to build in locations all over the world.

The hotel won't be large, with only 12 guest rooms, plus a restaurant. Guests will get to the hotel in a lift – so no diving or getting wet! The hotel will float 10 metres under the ocean, although it will be attached to the sea bed to prevent it from moving too far. Because it won't be very deep under the water, the sun will shine down and provide light. Guests will get great close-up views of the fish and other sea creatures, which won't be bothered by the hotel and so won't make any effort to avoid it.

The hotel's design, with clear plastic walls, means guests will be able to see the sea and all the creatures that live there around, above and below them in their rooms. They will almost get the feeling that they are swimming in the ocean. The luxury rooms will have a shower, TV and even the internet. The restaurant will serve high-quality meals. As you might expect, Planet Ocean want to encourage people to eat less fish, so guests won't find any on the menu. What's more surprising is that the atmosphere will be silent, so guests will have to imagine the sound of the ocean around them.

The hotel won't be cheap to build and it won't be cheap to stay in. But the designers are especially proud of the fact that it will be environmentally friendly. It will use electricity, of course, but it will produce its own, and won't disturb ocean life at all. In fact, the designers hope some sea creatures will build their homes on parts of the building, which will bring real benefits to the underwater world.

Planet Ocean's future designs include a moving hotel. It perhaps sounds like this will work in the same way as a cruise ship, but this is not the case. In fact, rather than moving between continents and countries, it will stay within a single country's waters, but only occasionally change positions around its coast.

- 1 What do we learn about the hotel?
  - A Guests will have to swim down to get to it.
  - B Its lights will shine into the sea so guests can see the fish.
  - C It will only have a small number of rooms.
  - D Fish and other sea creatures will be scared of it.
- 2 What might guests find strange about staying at the hotel?
  - A swimming from their rooms into the ocean
  - B having ocean life in their room
  - C enjoying a meal of freshly caught fish
  - D being unable to hear the ocean
- 3 What is the best thing about the hotel, according to the designers?
  - A It won't cost much to build.
  - B It won't use much electricity.
  - C It won't cause any damage to the environment.
  - D Fish and other sea creatures won't come very close to it.
- 4 Planet Ocean's moving hotel will
  - A rarely move from one site to another.
  - B travel between various countries.
  - C be similar to a type of cruise ship.
  - D remain close to the coast of each continent.
- 5 What might a guest in this hotel say?

Α

It's very expensive, but the facilities are quite basic and the windows are too small to see outside.

С

Seeing the fish up close is amazing, but it's a shame that the hotel disturbs sea life.

В

It's great to stay in such a beautiful hotel that is also good for the planet.

It's a great idea, and I love the fact that it can move around and travel to different locations.

The price of a perfect holiday?

Cruises are becoming more and more popular, with around 20 million passengers per year now enjoying holidays on board luxury ships. Many people see a cruise as the perfect way to sit back and do nothing, and enjoy time off work. Everything you could possibly need is within easy reach. On board, there are shops, theatres, cinemas, swimming pools and leisure centres. There are more facilities, in fact, than most towns offer their residents. It's therefore easy to see why they are so popular. But what is the effect on the environment of this trend?

Although it usually takes less energy for a vehicle to move through water than over land, cruise ships are often huge, with the biggest ones carrying up to 6,000 passengers. Moving such large vehicles requires enormous engines, which burn as much as 300,000 litres of fuel a day. One scientist has calculated that cruise ships create as much pollution as 5 million cars going over the same distance. Because they are out at sea, they also burn dirtier fuel that isn't allowed on land. Unfortunately, no government has control over the amount of air pollution out at sea.

Cruises also produce huge amounts of rubbish, and cruise ships aren't usually good at recycling. Waste water from showers and toilets is usually poured directly into the sea – as much per day as from a small town. Waste food from restaurants isn't put into the sea, but still causes problems when brought back to the land.

Cruise ships also cause difficulties in the cities where they stop. Popular destinations can get five or six ships per day, with thousands of tourists at a time. Good for restaurants? No. Restaurant owners complain that the visitors look around for a few hours and then return to their ship to eat. What's more, the crowds can put off other tourists, who complain that the streets are too busy. Some towns have banned cruise ships or put a limit on the number that can stop at the same time. People who care about the environment worry that as the cruise industry continues to grow, so too will the issues for our planet.

- 1 What is the writer trying to do in paragraph 1?
  - A persuade people to go on cruise ships
  - B explain why cruise ships have become so popular
  - C compare cruise ships with a typical holiday resort
  - D describe how the services cruise ships offer have changed
- 2 One reason cruise ships cause a lot of air pollution is because
  - A they carry large numbers of cars as well as passengers.
  - B their engines are not as efficient as those of other ships.
  - C it takes more energy to move through water than over land.
  - D they use types of fuel that are not permitted on land.
- 3 What do we learn about the waste products on cruise ships?
  - A All the waste products are carried back to shore.
  - B Waste food is often thrown away at sea.
  - C Most cruise ships recycle their waste products.
  - D An enormous amount of the waste water isn't recycled.

- 4 How do some people feel about the cruise ship passengers who visit their cities?
  - A surprised that they are rude to other tourists
  - B annoyed that they don't spend money on meals
  - C happy that they fill up all the restaurants
  - D pleased to see so many visitors to the city
- 5 Which best describes large cruise ships?
  - They seem to offer ideal relaxing holidays, but they aren't environmentally friendly.
  - They are becoming very popular and they bring a lot of benefits, in spite of their problems.
  - They used to cause a lot of pollution, but things are improving now.
  - They cause pollution in the sea and on land, so cities are planning to ban them in the future.

Athletics in Jamaica

Jamaica has produced some of the world's best athletes, including stars such as Usain Bolt and Veronica Campbell-Brown. Is this success partly due to one event – the Jamaica Schools' Championships?

The four-day Championships have taken place every year since 1910. Nearly 200 school students take part in front of an audience of over 30,000 people. The event is also shown on live TV, and the whole country watches what is sometimes called Jamaica's mini-Olympics. The competitors take it very seriously, and they all want to win. Classmates and former students also come to support and encourage their schools.

School coach Dwayne Simpson has trained many young stars. He believes the Championships have an important role in the development of young athletes. They are the biggest schools' competition in the world, he says, and other countries are now looking to copy them. He also believes that the Championships give young athletes a reason to practise. They want to do well for their school, so they work and train together as a team, so they produce better results.

The Championships have turned many young students into stars, but those who are most talented as adults don't always win as young teenagers. Olympic gold medallist Usain Bolt, for example, failed to win a single race at the Championships as an under-15 runner. Olympic champion Veronica Campbell-Brown was always easily beaten in the lower-age groups before finally winning as an older student.

Nathaniel Day, a young runner from Britain, has studied and trained in Jamaica for the last two years. 'Young athletes here get experience of being on TV from the age of 12,' he says, 'so when they're older, they aren't scared of big occasions and they perform well. In the UK, athletes don't perform in front of the cameras until they're adults, and sometimes they find it hard to deal with.' According to Nathaniel, the Championships also give young athletes a goal. 'Because it's such a big event, it gives them an idea of how exciting it is to perform in an Olympic stadium. It helps them develop the ambition to become champions.'

- 1 What does the text say about the Championships? 4 According to Nathaniel Day, the event
  - A Thirty thousand people watch them on TV.
  - B Young athletes take part just to have fun.
  - C They started over 100 years ago.
  - D Some former students take part.
- 2 What does Dwayne Simpson say about the Championships?
  - A Other countries should try to hold a similar competition.
  - B They have grown too big in recent years.
  - C They encourage young athletes to do their best.
  - D Schools are always keen to do well.
- 3 In paragraph 4, what does the writer say about Jamaica's Olympic champions?
  - A They could beat even the oldest students in some races.
  - B They occasionally lost races, but only to much older students.

Football stars at school

MANCH STER UNITED

Can you imagine being a famous football star but still attending school? That's what some students at Ashtonon-Mersey School in England do!

The school is about 7 km from Old Trafford, the famous sports stadium that is home to Manchester United Football Club. The club takes talented teenagers from all over the world. (1).......... But even though they are following their dreams of becoming sports stars, football clubs recognise that education should still be an important part of their lives. (2)............ Although footballers can play professionally from the age of 16, most don't join professional teams until they are older.

All football clubs have to make sure that players who are under 18 are getting an education, but many choose to do this by organising classes at the club. At Manchester United, however, young players go to a normal school.

(3)........... That's why at Ashton-on-Mersey School you can see people who played against Arsenal or Liverpool on Saturday sitting down to classes with all the other students on Monday morning.

The Manchester United students have classes two days a week and study a range of subjects. While attending, they are encouraged to feel like they are part of the school. They still follow the rules like all the other pupils there. (4)........

There are many benefits to the school from their arrangement with Manchester United. The football club has given money to the school. (5)........... Perhaps more importantly, seeing successful young players in the school can encourage younger students to try hard to do well and achieve their own dreams. Successful players often return to visit the school. When one French-speaking player came back, the students were all keen to ask him questions in French! Chatting to an international football star really helped them improve their language skills.

Bees, bees, bees

calmly closed the kitchen door and c

Most people enjoy seeing bees in gardens and parks, but it can be scary when they're flying together in large numbers, and it can be even more frightening if they come a bit too close!

A few years ago, Lisa Turnbull was in her home in York. She had made a cake, which she had left on the kitchen table. (1)............ But, as she opened the window to help the cake cool more quickly, she unfortunately didn't notice the large number of bees flying around in her back garden. Lisa left the cake in the kitchen and went upstairs. A few minutes later, she heard a loud noise coming from her kitchen, so she went back downstairs. (2)........... They had left their old home and were looking for a new one. It seems that the queen bee, which controls all the others, had fancied a bit of cake and landed on it. She was followed by 15,000 others!

Lisa calmly closed the kitchen door and called a local beekeeper, who removed the bees from her cake. (3)...... Last summer, Jane Norton from Manchester had a similar experience. She was driving home from work when she noticed thousands of insects following her car. (4)...... She stopped the car, hoping that they would continue and leave her in peace. However, they landed on it and stayed there. Feeling rather nervous, Jane used her phone to look online and find the phone number of a local beekeeper. (5)...... It turned out that the gueen bee had flown into the boot of the car while Jane was putting shopping into it. When she closed the boot, the queen was stuck inside, so when she drove off, the rest of the bees followed. Jane stayed in her car until the beekeeper had safely removed all the bees – which took over three hours! That's a good excuse for being late home!

- A She realised after a while that they were bees flying after her.
- B There were still a few bees in the room, but the cake had disappeared!
- C She opened the door and saw a huge number of bees.
- D The beekeeper told her that he couldn't remove such a large swarm.
- E She was very much looking forward to having a slice.
- F He arrived just half an hour later.
- G Although it wasn't damaged, Lisa didn't feel very hungry any more!
- H The bees seemed to be attracted by the cake and followed her.

Subject: RE: Friends

Hi Jodie,

I'm glad you're enjoying Australia. The weather in your photos looks absolutely amazing! I'm sure you'll soon make friends. You love sport, so why don't you join a sports club? That would be a great way to meet people. As soon as you get to know some people, you could organise a barbecue – that would be fun! I've got a few old friends from when I lived in London. We stay in contact online. We send messages and photos to each other, and we try to meet up when we can.

Take care and write soon!

Love.

Emma

3 Sample answer

Hi Blake

That's great that your brother can take us to the new shopping centre.

I play football on Saturday mornings, so Sunday is better for me. It means we'll have more time there if we go on Sunday.

Your brother is really into cycling, isn't he? A new bike's too expensive, of course, but how about getting him some new gloves?

I'd prefer to go to the cinema. There's a new film I'd really like to see which is probably on, and I'm not very good at ice skating, so I wouldn't enjoy it much.

See you on Sunday then!

Marek

Hi Rowan

I'm so sorry to hear you've had a problem with your cousin. It's never nice when that happens.

Something similar happened to me once too. It's OK now, though, and we get on with each other really well again.

I think you should contact your cousin and apologise. I'm sure they did things wrong too, but just say sorry for what you feel bad about. I think it will make things better between you.

I think you should do this as soon as you can. It will get harder the longer you leave it.

I hope that helps.

See you soon

Delphine

Hi Marley

That's fantastic that you're coming to Brazil. I hope you'll have time to come and see me.

In May, it's quite warm and is often sunny for most of the day, but there can be some rain too. It's usually about 25°C during the day and about 20°C at night. I'd bring shorts and lots of T-shirts. A raincoat would be good, but only if you've got one that's quite light.

There are lots of interesting places to visit. Rio de Janeiro is interesting and has lots of museums and galleries. The rainforests in the east are also really nice to visit.

My favourite restaurant

There's a great restaurant in my town called The Rabbit and it's my favourite place to eat. But what makes it so great? Well, I'll tell you!

The first thing, of course, is the food. It serves lots of different dishes, all made from local ingredients, and the chef is a real expert! The other staff who work there are so friendly. It's like eating with your own family! The dining area is comfortable, but if the tables were a bit further apart, it would be even better.

I go there about once a month. Maybe you should try it

I saw the advert for a talent show and decided to apply. Two weeks later I received a reply saying my application had been successful! I was going to sing on a real talent show! I was really excited and at the same time really frightened. I practised every day to get ready for the show. As I walked on stage, I was so nervous I thought I was going to die! But once I started singing, I started to relax. Afterwards, I had to wait for the judges to decide. "And the winner is...". I closed my eyes for what seemed like days! Me! It was me! I had won! It was the happiest day of my life!

The best holiday I've ever had

The best holiday I've ever had was when I went to Egypt. We spent one week looking at the amazing historical sites and the second week by the sea. We took a plane to Egypt and the flight took about five hours. We stayed in the capital city, Cairo, for two days and saw the Pyramids near there. Then we went on a boat that travelled up the River Nile. We saw lots of ancient places – they were all so special.

Then we went by bus to a place called Sharm El Sheikh. It's by the sea and we spent a great week swimming and relaxing before flying home.

Narrator: Track 1 Listening Part 1 Worksheet 1

For each question, choose the correct

answer.

Look at question one.

Narrator: 1 What did the man do at the sports centre yesterday?

Man: I went along to that new sports centre yesterday evening.

Woman: Oh, yeah? Is it any good?

Man: Well, I haven't become a member yet, but they showed me around. It was pretty good. I was thinking of joining so that I could do diving lessons, but there's no pool. So, I don't know.

Woman: Oh, that's a shame. Did you try any of the facilities while you were there?

Man: I did a quick workout in the gym at the sports centre – the machines are great. You'd like it 'cos they have a running track outside.

Woman: Interesting! I'll go and take a look.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 2 Which sport does the woman compete in?

Man: Are you into sport, Julie?

Julie: Yeah, I've loved it since I was little and I've competed in a few different things.

Man: Oh, really? Do you mean in team sports?

Julie: Well, I play football, but only for fun with my friends. I preferred baseball when I was at school – I was quite good at it, and I almost played in a national tournament once. But no, I'm actually hoping to go out to Spain to take part in the surfing championships next month.

Man: That sounds amazing! I wish you the best of luck.

Julie: Thanks!

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 3 Where will the friends go running this evening?

Man: I'm not as fit as I used to be. I need to start doing some training again.

Woman: Well, why don't you come for a run with me this evening after college? I usually set off from home around six o'clock. We could go along a path through the woods near college. Or we could go into the countryside, which is what I do. There's a path by the river – it's more peaceful than running through the streets, and there are some beautiful views.

Man: Well, OK, then. Why not?

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 4 Which winter sport was Max good at when he was young?

Woman: I'm going snowboarding next week – have you ever tried it, Max?

Max: Not since I entered a competition when I was a teenager. It didn't end well – I came last and injured my ankle!

Woman: Oh – that doesn't sound good.

Max: Well, no, it wasn't. I used to be one of the fastest skiers I knew when I was that age — my family lived in Switzerland for a few years, so I just expected to be good at other winter sports, too — like snowboarding and ice hockey. But I failed to get into the school team for that!

Max: Really?

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 5 What did the girl lose?

Man: Good morning, Highfield Sports Centre.

Charlotte: Oh, hi. My name's Charlotte. I was playing squash at the centre yesterday. I wonder if anyone's found one of my trainers? It's got 'Charlotte' in it – I was on court three with my friend. I usually put everything in my backpack with my racket. I've got one but the other isn't there. Fortunately, they aren't new, but if you could look for me, that would be great.

Man: OK. Just let me check for you... Yes, it's here!

Charlotte: Oh, fantastic – I'll come in later, then.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 6 Which sports instructor is the man going to meet today?

David: Oh, hi, it's David. You know we said we'd meet at the sailing club later this afternoon? Well, the thing is, I forgot that I've already got an appointment at the golf club. My son, Tom, is thinking about joining so I wanted to show him around. We're also going to meet the coach. I want to ask a few questions. Tom plays a lot of football and I'm not sure it will be easy for him to do both sports. Can we meet another day instead? Sorry about this.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 7 What will open at the sports centre soon?

Woman: Good afternoon, everybody. This is a club news announcement. I know some of you are already enjoying the brand new outdoor athletics area, but if you haven't been there yet, do try it! I'm sure you're also looking forward to the basketball competition in a few weeks as well – don't forget to buy a ticket at reception if you'd like to watch. And if you want to be one of the first people to try out the climbing wall, come and book a session! You'll be able to do that from the 31st of this month.

Worksheet 2

For each question, choose the correct

answer.

Look at question one.

Narrator: 1 What time will the flight to Brussels leave?

Girl: Dad – we've just had an email from the airline.

Dad: Oh?

Girl: Yeah – the time's changed for our flight to Brussels. It's something to do with a new timetable or something. There's only a few minutes' difference – we were flying out at 11.57 p.m., but now it's five past midnight. And the return flight the following Tuesday is now at two minutes past midnight. That's a full two hours later than it was – so we might need to change our booking at the airport car park. Dad: OK.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 2 What does the man enjoy most about flying?

Woman: Do you enjoy flying?

Man: It's not my favourite thing to do. I get a bit nervous sometimes - usually when I'm just getting on board and finding my seat. It's thinking about taking off – I'm not frightened exactly, but I do feel a bit strange and I'm not keen on that. Landing's the most exciting bit. I think it's because there's usually a new place to explore. When I'm up in the air during the flight, I just find it a bit dull.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 3 Where will Maggie's family stay on holiday this year?

Man: Are you taking the family to Italy again on holiday this year, Maggie?

Maggie: Yeah – we were thinking about going back to the same cottage we rented last summer, but it's already booked on the dates we wanted to go, unfortunately. The kids really want to go camping – there's a fantastic site in the same area with a pool and everything. But it's not really my thing, so we've reserved a family room at the hotel next door instead – there's a pool there too and it'll be much more comfortable, so it's the perfect solution!

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 4 What has the woman left behind?

Woman: Oh, no! I knew I'd leave something behind! Man: Don't tell me you haven't got our passports

- there isn't enough time for us to go home and come back again.

Woman: They're here, in my handbag. And we checked in online before we left so there are no tickets to worry about. It's the guidebooks. I was planning to bring a couple, so I could do some reading on the journey. I'm pretty sure I didn't pack them, so they're probably still sitting on my desk.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 5 What will the weather be like when the plane arrives?

Woman: Good morning, everyone. This is your captain speaking. We're currently flying at around ten thousand metres and travelling at 650 kilometres per hour. There's hardly any cloud around and the air is nice and calm. So, the rest of the flight should be smooth and much better than the rather windy day we left behind in London. There's a little light rain in Madrid at the moment, but you'll be pleased to know that it should be clear by the time we arrive in about an hour.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 6 What was damaged during the journey?

Woman: How was your journey?

Man: Well, the ferry was delayed but there's a good shop next to the harbour, so I bought myself a new travel bag. I didn't realise at the time, but it's torn at one end, so I'll have to return it. Fortunately, I haven't put anything in it.

Woman: Oh dear. How was the sea?

Man: It was really windy, so the boat was moving all over the place! The lady next to me spilled coffee over some documents she had – and I dropped my tablet. Fortunately, it didn't break.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 7 Where can you park your car for free?

Man:

This is an announcement for the person who has left a car outside the main entrance to the building. The number is AC 4124. Please return to your car and remove the vehicle immediately, as parking is not allowed there. There are spaces available in the car park next to the station building, where there is no charge. If there are no spaces left, please park on the road at the front of the station. Please note that there is a fee for parking there. Thank you. Narrator: Now listen again.

Look at question one.

Narrator: 1 Which is the girl's favourite photo?

Girl: Hi, Dad.

Dad: Hi. You've been out a long time with your granddad.

Girl: I know. We went for a drive. I took some photos on my new phone – it's got an amazing camera.

Dad: So a good day then! I remember those pictures you took looking up at the cliffs from the beach! And that great one of Sam climbing on the rocks.

Girl: Well, I've taken some even better ones today.

We stopped at this waterfall which was really high. You can even go behind it – so I did and I got a brilliant picture of it. It's the best one

I've taken for ages. Look!

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 2 What should people not do?

Woman: Here we are in the national park. I must ask you to stay on the paths – there are rare plants here, and we don't want anyone to stand on them. Take your time and walk slowly, so you can look at everything. There's a stream down to the right of the path, but there's a steep drop and the bridge below isn't safe, so don't go down there. We'll get a chance to walk along and even through the river later. We'll also be visiting some caves this afternoon.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 3 What has the woman studied in college this week?

Man: Are you enjoying your geography course at college?

Woman: Yeah – I've found out all kinds of interesting things. Last month we studied deserts. Did you know there are different types? Some are rock and some are sand. But now we're doing all about the coast. This week we're studying beaches. Today, we went on a trip to a beach with cool patterns in the sand. I really enjoyed it but last week's was really interesting. We studied plants that live near the sea. Did you know some trees like to grow in sand?

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 4 Where does the man prefer to swim?

Woman: You swim a lot, don't you, Tim?

Tim: Yeah – I really enjoy swimming outside rather than in indoor pools. The water's cooler and fresher. I especially like moving water like you get in rivers, but you have to be careful. However, there aren't any good swimming rivers near here, so I usually go to the lake. We're a long way from the sea here, so I haven't any experience of swimming there, but I'm looking forward to giving it a try.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Woman: 5 What did the students enjoy learning about in the lecture today?

Man: What did you think of the lecture this afternoon?

Woman: Well, I never expected to study anything about farming because we've done so much about natural landscapes, you know, ones that humans haven't created.

Man: It was just as good as studying the rainforest and stuff like that, though, wasn't it?

Woman: Yeah, I think I preferred it. It was easier to understand.

Man: I think we're going to be studying the sea next. I guess that'll be good too. We're going to look at how bays and cliffs are created, I think.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 6 How did the family travel in Iceland?

Boy: How was your family trip to Iceland?

Girl: Brilliant!

Boy: What did you see?

Girl: The scenery was amazing – there are hardly any trees there and a lot of strange rock shapes ... You can go around the island by bus with a tour guide. But my dad was brave and decided to hire a car, so we went around in that. We could get really close to nature that way. One day, we picked up some walkers and took them back to their hotel. They were really tired, but told us some great stories about how the land was created.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 7 What did the friends learn about in the TV programme?

Woman: I watched an interesting programme about the weather last night.

Man: Oh, yeah, I saw that too. When it started it showed lots of pictures of clouds, didn't it? So, I thought it was going to be about rain and snow and stuff.

Woman: Yeah – but it actually looked at wind, didn't it and how it gets stronger and weaker and everything as it travels.

Man: Mmm, I liked the bit about sea breezes and why it's cooler on the coast even on a hot, sunny day.

Narrator: 1 You will hear two friends talking about a school trip to a wildlife park.

Girl: Did you enjoy the wildlife park?

Boy: I thought it was OK. Though I'd prefer it if places like that only had animals that feel at home with the local weather, even if they're ones that are in danger. It seems unfair keeping animals from hot countries in parks where it's cold.

Girl: You couldn't learn about animals from other places then.

Boy: True, but on the trip, most of them were so far away it was impossible to study them properly.

Girl: At least there were posters about all of the animals.

Boy: No one was actually reading them, though.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 2 You will hear two friends discussing a talk they went to.

Boy: I enjoy it when the college organises talks like that.

Girl: Me too, and what the speaker was talking about gave me some good ideas for my science project.

Boy: I'm doing mine on a very different topic, actually. It was interesting, though. She's obviously done a lot of talks like this before – she knows exactly how to get everyone's attention by including some funny stories as well as the serious stuff.

Girl: I couldn't stop laughing at one of them. I liked the photos of those old scientists in her presentation.

Boy: I've seen most of them before on the internet, actually.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 3 You will hear two friends talking about a new classmate.

Boy: What do you think of our new classmate?

Girl: I like her. I keep wanting to call her by the wrong name, though, because she looks a bit like a girl at my running club.

Boy: Oh dear! You'll upset her if you do.

Girl: Don't worry, I won't! She seemed guite quiet to begin with, like someone who'd rather just get on with their work in class, and finds it hard to talk to others and make friends. She's become much more sociable quite quickly, though.

Boy: Yes, and now she chats just as much as any of us.

Girl: Possibly even more! Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 4 You will hear two friends talking about a college play they're in.

Boy: Are you free one day after college this week?

Girl: Yes, on Wednesday. Why?

Boy: Well, you know there's the college play coming up? And thanks to you, I got one of the best roles – the one I really wanted ...

Girl: Yes.

Boy: There are some bits I'm not happy with. I feel like I'm standing in the wrong position and some of what I say doesn't sound right. It'd be really helpful to have another opinion, but I know you're busy.

Girl: Not at all, and are you having trouble remembering what you need to say?

Boy: My character certainly says a lot, but I've always been OK at remembering everything.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 5 You will hear two friends talking about school uniforms.

Boy: I heard our school's thinking of introducing school uniforms.

Girl: Really? It'd certainly make choosing what to wear in the morning easier.

Boy: And I suppose there'd be less washing for me or my mum and dad to do.

Girl: True, but then they'd need to iron our shirts, which takes ages. I'd feel sorry for the staff, though. They won't know who's who if we're all wearing the same thing.

Boy: At least to begin with ... I read that wearing uniforms actually means students get into trouble less often.

Girl: I'll believe that when I see it, though. How can clothes change how you behave?

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 6 You will hear two friends talking about the journey on a college trip.

Girl: I thought the journey was going to be difficult.

Boy: Me too. Normally, it takes hours because the college always hires a really old, slow bus.

Girl: The train took half the time, though. I wish they'd had something to drink apart from coffee and tea.

Boy: Yes, and I was hoping to get a sandwich too because I didn't have time to make one this morning. I'm not sure how much the other people in our carriage enjoyed having thirty college students travelling with them.

Girl: Great, thanks, except the boat trip I went on

Boy: I thought you'd enjoy something like that. Girl: Normally, I would. I'm not like my dad, who always feels ill whenever we go anywhere near a boat. There were some big waves, but that just adds to the excitement, and we could see what it was going to be like before we left. The boat had a really noisy engine, though. All the people on board complained, so we went back to the harbour not long after we'd set off. I was so relieved!

amazing singer.

Boy: I don't think I'd have enough courage to stand up in front of people and sing.

Girl: He's only comfortable playing in front of a few people at the moment. He's getting better, though. The way he sings sounds nothing like any singer I've ever heard before. I don't know how he does it, but he sings the songs I write so much better than when I sing them.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 4 You will hear a girl telling her friend about a drama course she's doing.

Girl: I've just started a drama course.

Boy: How's it going?

Girl: Good. I've only had one session and we spent it doing the usual stuff for getting to know each other. I hope what we do gets more interesting as the course goes on.

Boy: I'm sure it will. I didn't know you were into acting.

Girl: Yes, but I'm not sure I'll ever be any good at it, even with this course. I just wanted to try, and have fun while I'm doing it, and I'm sure I will, whether I become a famous actor or not.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 5 You will hear two friends talking about a book they've read.

Boy: Have you finished that book we're studying in our literature class yet?

Girl: Yes, last night. I stayed up late because I couldn't stop reading the last few pages. I really didn't expect the hero to be killed.

Boy: I thought she might be. I read an interview with the author who said some readers would be disappointed by what happened at the end. I've never read anything that had someone like her as the hero, though. That's what made it so interesting. Most books rely on the story and lots happening, but this was more about her thoughts and feelings.

Girl: True!

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 6 You will hear two friends talking about a TV talent show.

Girl: Talent Nation was good again last night.

Boy: It was. There was the usual range of acts – some were fantastic and others were awful.

Girl: That's what makes the show so interesting, though. The terrible ones are just as enjoyable as the good ones.

Boy: Exactly, which can hardly be said about the judges. What they say is supposed to be a really amusing part of the show.

Girl: I know. But most of it is really dull. You and I could do a better job.

and then my parents spend the whole holiday worrying about my brother and I getting hurt. Falling over is part of the experience.

Boy: I wouldn't fancy it.

Girl: I wish we didn't go for two weeks, though. I love it to begin with but lose interest by the end of the first week.

Boy: You could go somewhere warm by the sea in winter instead, like we do.

Girl: I love spending time by the sea, but the same thing happens. Before long, I just want to go somewhere else!

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 2 You will hear two friends talking about professional football.

Boy: Did you see the match last night?

Girl: Of course.

Boy: The TV presenters were complaining about the mistakes the managers made with the teams they chose and how they should play.

It must be impossible for them to get it right every time.

Girl: It's easy if you're watching on TV, but much harder when you've actually got to make those decisions yourself.

Boy: Exactly. And footballers who get paid millions of pounds a year should really listen more to what managers tell them.

and stuff, but you should still do what you're

Boy: Hey, great! I'd love to see it. Actually, a few of us are going out with the club on Sunday. If you could come, it'd be your first time since becoming a member, wouldn't it?

Girl: Yes, it would.

Boy: It'll be a great route. One of the most experienced members has chosen it. It's the first time we've tried it and it looks really interesting – there's supposed to be some fantastic scenery.

Girl: I'd love to, but I promised my sister I'd help her then with a homework project she's got.

Boy: OK, another time, perhaps.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 4 You will hear two friends talking about a sailing course they did.

Boy: That sailing course was great.

Girl: Yes. It was a good job I'd read a bit about how to do it before I went, because I couldn't actually hear a lot of what the teacher said.

Boy: The sails made quite a lot of noise in the wind, but there was just the right amount for learning how to sail.

Girl: And the waves were really small too, which made things easier. I think the club needs to spend some money on new boats, though. The one I was in felt like it might fall to bits at any moment.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 5 You will hear two friends talking about a video game.

Girl: Have you tried playing City Driving yet? Boy: Yes, but I was a bit disappointed with it, actually.

Girl: Me too, with some of the things in it anyway. The songs that play while you're driving add to the action at least.

Boy: That's true. It's a shame that the creatures you choose to drive the cars are so dull.

Girl: They're just like the ones in several other games I know.

Boy: I only got to the fifth stage of the game – the racing itself was fairly exciting.

Girl: I guess we won't finish the game any time soon – there are a hundred races altogether.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Narrator: 6 You will hear two friends talking about a basketball game they went to.

Girl: The game last night was a bit disappointing, wasn't it?

Boy: It was. I can't believe I'm saying this, but I actually felt quite sorry for the other team.

Girl: Me too. To lose by so much must feel awful.

Boy: Especially as our star player was injured a couple of weeks ago and couldn't even take part.

Girl: I think it's much more exciting to watch when the two sides are about as good as each other. Even if our team doesn't win.

Boy: I agree. It was almost like they were playing

You will hear a film review programme on the radio.

Man: Welcome to The Film Review Programme! Today we're reviewing some of this week's new films.

Let's start with this week's likely hit, Jungle Fever. This is quite an unusual one! Some of you may remember last year's TV documentary film about a family of tigers in India. Well, this is a cartoon based on that programme and I can report that it's great fun for people of any age.

Some of you will be excited to know that actor Steve Wills is back on our screens! You'll remember him as action hero Marty Kay, but in his new film, Call It, he actually plays a chef, working in an Italian pizza takeaway in New York City. Actor Jennifer Peckory plays his manager, Jo-Jo, and romance is in the air!

Don't miss Swim!, a comedy which takes a look at learning to swim as an adult. It's about a 20-year-old man who wants to join in with his friends when they swim in the lake near his home. So, he goes to the local pool to take lessons. Be prepared to laugh until it hurts!

And now it's competition time, so I hope you've listened carefully and made some notes! If you want to enter this month's competition, just go online and answer the ten questions in our quiz. Go to www.movies.co.uk and select your answers.

Last month, we gave out free cinema tickets as a prize – this time we're offering restaurant tickets which you can use at a choice of exciting places.

You must complete your entry by January the twenty-eighth. Make sure you've finished by two p.m., when the competition closes. We'll announce the winners on the thirtieth of January – and if you're lucky, the prize will be yours by the second week in February. Good luck and goodbye!

Mandy:

Morning, everyone! Thanks for attending this training session at our new department store. You've all been offered jobs as sales assistants, so well done and welcome! My name's Mandy Hickets – that's H-I-C-K-E-T-S and I'm your training manager.

I'll tell you a bit about how the store's organised. The top floor's where the stock room is - that's where everything's kept before it goes out onto the shelves. The first floor's mainly clothing and the ground floor, where you'll work, is where we sell things like make-up and electrical items.

Most of you are part-time staff, which means you'll work from Monday to Saturday, either in the mornings or the afternoons. Your rest day is Thursday. Full-time staff take either a Tuesday or a Wednesday off you'll find out which later today.

I know that some of you live out of town. There's a regular train service, as I'm sure you already know, but we also operate a bus service for those nearer by. There's no charge for this. There's also a staff car park, though you'll need to pay a small monthly fee for this.

All staff get 25% discount on certain items and services. You could have your hair cut in our salon, for example, and you can use the discount when the sales are on too, which some stores don't offer. I'm afraid there are no discounts on food, however.

I believe you've already ordered your uniforms and you'll be able to collect those at the end of today's session. When you arrive on your first day, please go to the office, where you'll pick up your ID card. We provide keys for lockers, where you can keep your personal items safe. You will hear a talk about an exercise class called Extreme Bootcamp.

Woman:

Hi, everyone. I'd like to tell you about a new exercise class I've just tried. It's called 'Extreme Bootcamp' and it's hard but great fun! What does 'bootcamp' mean? It's actually a word used by the army when they're training new soldiers. It's nothing to do with what's on your feet. And believe me, it's nothing like a camping trip either! It's a short course of challenging physical training. Most of us are used to exercising in the gym, with nothing but TV screens or other people to look at while we're on the machines or whatever. But Extreme Bootcamp is different 'cos you do the class on a bridge. It goes over a river, so it's nice to look at while you exercise. You won't like the sound of this, but the class meets at 6.30 a.m. every weekday for a month. It's only for an hour, but class members do lots in that time, beginning with jogging to warm up. After that there's some weightlifting and jumping, and then you do some more relaxing exercises at the end. The clothes you should wear are pretty much the same as you'd wear for any other exercise class - so a T-shirt and shorts or a tracksuit is fine. Oh, and wearing trainers is a must, so do bring a good pair with you. Bootcamp is good fun, I promise! If you're interested in joining the next one, there's a registration day on 17th September – though the first class won't be until the 30th. The bootcamp's run by Ellie Shawes and she can give you more information, if you need it. Her surname's spelt S-H-A-W-E-S, and you can contact her via the website. I've got her phone number too, if you want it. OK, so has anyone got any questions?

Brittany: You'll probably expect me to say I felt calm > 'cos of my training. The opposite was true! The person I played had an American accent – I kept thinking I'd go back to my own. I'm sure things like not remembering your lines are embarrassing when there's a huge audience. I made sure that didn't happen.

Interviewer: Later you went into TV acting. Why?

It wasn't that I got bored of the theatre. Brittany:

I was seen on stage by a director who thought I was perfect for a TV series he was making. I thought 'Why not learn some fresh skills?' The extra money was useful 'cos I was saving for a house -I'd never take a job just for money, though.

Interviewer: Is TV filming more difficult than stage acting? Brittany: It's different. There's no audience, no clapping.

That's strange at first, though the director will tell you when you've done well. Sometimes you film the same bit over and over. That's annoying till you realise it's important to get it right. Then, in a theatre you have to make sure people at the back can hear – on screen that sounds like shouting. I have to be reminded about that lots!

Interviewer: What do you love most about your job? Brittany: When a new TV series comes out and my family get excited – I prefer not to watch myself on screen and I've never been to any actors' events - though I wouldn't mind doing that one day. I get the real excitement from picking up the envelope containing my next role and I start reading the lines straightaway.

Interviewer: Is there anything you don't like about being an actor?

Brittany: Some people find it hard to deal with > being recognised in the street. That isn't my favourite part of the job, but I accept it - most people are friendly. Getting up before it's light is something I've never got used to, and I never will! But once a series is finished, you can take a long break, if you need to. Now listen again. Narrator:

You will hear an interview in which a businesswoman called Carla Smith is talking about her life and work.

Interviewer: This morning we're talking to businesswoman Carla Smith, who's made some changes to the way she lives her life. Carla, the first thing you did was change the way you worked. Why?

Carla:

I used to have a busy job – I worked for a large technology firm. It was interesting, so I never got stressed or needed time off like some of my colleagues, who became ill. The job was incredible. I travelled all over the world. Then, suddenly I realised I was living in hotels and I thought 'You know what? I'd like to spend more time in my own house!"

Interviewer: And now you run your own business.

Carla:

Yes, and I choose which hours I work. I still do long days – but I can stop when I want to. I didn't use to go on holidays often and I still don't – but that's my choice instead of my company's. Some people who leave big companies miss the big salaries, but that doesn't bother me.

Interviewer: Do you do more exercise now?

Carla:

I spend about the same amount of time exercising as I did before. However, instead of doing it between work and dinner, I get up at 5 a.m. and exercise then. I'm into yoga, I have been for years, because it relaxes my body and mind. I've never really enjoyed team sports or athletics.

Carla:

Interviewer: What about food? Are you healthier now? Definitely! I never used to have lunch and I ended up eating late and having too much chocolate and crisps, which made me feel bad. Now I cook everything from fresh and it tastes so much nicer. I'm less tired now and have loads of energy which was unexpected!

Carla:

Interviewer: Do you spend more time with family now, too? Yes, particularly my sisters. We've always loved films - when we were teenagers we used to go to the cinema every week. That isn't always possible now, so we have film nights at my house instead. There's an outdoor pool in town and you can swim and watch films there - we're going to try that soon.

Interviewer: You're still a busy person – do you have any time-saving advice?

Carla:

There are things people do like checking emails or messages on the bus to work or school and making a list of things to do the next day, which are good ideas and can sometimes save time. But the thing that works well for me is having lots of clothes which are the same, so you don't have to think about what to put on in the morning!

Narrator: Now listen again.

Look at questions 1 to 6 now. You have 45 seconds.

You will hear an interview with an architect called Scott Tenbury.

Interviewer: Scott Tenbury, you're an architect and you've lived in some interesting buildings for research. Tell us about the one in Japan.

I had what's called a 'capsule' in an apartment Scott:

block. It was one tiny room - I had to be creative and use interesting ways of getting everything I needed into the space. People asked 'Isn't it a bit like living in prison?' But it's nothing like that! And I never heard the neighbours, despite living so close to them.

Interviewer: Interesting! You also once lived in what you called an 'upside-down' house. Scott: That's right. It looked like the roof was on > the ground and the front door was in the air! All the rooms were in their usual place inside, so it wasn't that different to live in it. That was a bit disappointing. It wasn't in an area that tourists visit, but I used to see people taking photos of it from time to time. They'd ask whether the house was difficult to look after - it wasn't at all.

Interviewer: You've also lived in a container in London – one of those big metal boxes which ships carry things in.

Scott: Yes – in the city centre. Unfortunately, it had a metal roof and when it rained, I couldn't hear the television! I wasn't sorry to leave that behind when I sold it. It took me a while to sell it – although they're small, they're not cheap, but I managed to sell it to a young woman - she was an architect too.

ANSWER KEY 131

Interviewer: Have you always lived in cities?

Yes, they're wonderful. It's great watching all Scott: those people living their lives – doing similar things in different ways! Many people like going to restaurants, shopping centres - I'm not bothered about all that. I work from home. so could live anywhere, but I love cities.

Interviewer: What are you designing at the moment? Scott: I'm working on my 'water building', trying to make a box which appears to float on the water – that's going well. People have been building on water for centuries, so there are no difficulties there. I want it to be the same grey-blue as the water - it seems almost impossible, because water changes so much with the light!

Interviewer: What kind of building would you like to design? Scott:

A railway station – one that's on different levels. A big monument to trains! It's not because I want people to say 'Wow!', but I'd like the challenge of making something so big and that does something useful, but is
